CooperCompanies Appoints Walter M Rosebrough, Jr. to its Board of Directors

Enters into Cooperation Agreement with Browning West

SAN RAMON, Calif., Dec. 23, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- CooperCompanies (Nasdaq: COO), a leading medical device company, announced today that the Company's Board of Directors (the "Board") has appointed Walter (Walt) M Rosebrough, Jr. as an independent director, effective as of January 3, 2026. In connection with this appointment, the Company also has entered into a cooperation agreement (the "Cooperation Agreement") with Browning West, LP. ("Browning West"). Mr. Rosebrough will join the Board's Corporate Governance & Nominating Committee. The Board has also agreed that, by the end of 2026, it shall provide due and serious consideration for Mr. Rosebrough to be appointed Chair of the Board. In addition, the Board will identify and appoint a new independent director with medical technology experience, with the mutual agreement of Browning West.

Mr. Rosebrough currently serves as CEO Emeritus and Senior Advisor of STERIS plc (NYSE: STE), a global medical device business focused on infection prevention products and services. During his tenure as CEO of STERIS from 2007 to 2021, STERIS's stock generated a 10-fold total return or an 18% annualized return compared with a 10% annualized return for the S&P 500, and the company's market capitalization increased by over $20 billion. His career also includes nearly two decades at Hill-Rom Holdings, Inc., where he held senior executive positions, including President and CEO of Support Systems International and President and CEO of Hill-Rom. Mr. Rosebrough currently serves as Independent Chair on the Board of Varex Imaging (NASDAQ: VREX).

"We are pleased to welcome Walt to our Board," said Colleen Jay, Incoming Chair of the Board of CooperCompanies. "He brings decades of leadership experience in the medical device manufacturing and healthcare industries, and his proven track record delivering sustainable growth will support our strategic vision and ongoing focus of delivering long-term value for shareholders."

"Cooper has significant long-term potential, and we are pleased to have aligned on a constructive path forward with the Cooper Board," said Usman S. Nabi, Co-Founder and Chief Investment Officer of Browning West. "We believe Walt's appointment along with the Company's commitment to additional Board refreshment position Cooper to drive the critical initiatives required to unlock sustained long-term value for all shareholders."

Browning West has agreed to certain customary standstill and voting commitments in connection with the Cooperation Agreement and will support the Board's full slate of directors at the 2026 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. The Cooperation Agreement will be filed by the Company with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") as an exhibit to the Current Report on Form 8-K.
